THE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

The Pro Football Hall of Fame opened its doors more than a half century ago. From its humble beginnings in 1963 to today, the Pro Football Hall of Fame has grown in both size and stature. Recognized worldwide as America's premier sports Hall of Fame, it is doubtful that even the most optimistic of those who led the drive to bring the Hall of Fame to Canton, Ohio could have envisioned the successes it would realize.

A truly exhilarating museum and exhibition center, the Hall of Fame pays tribute to the talents and triumphs of pro football's greatest stars. Chronicled within the walls of the Hall of Fame are the stories and circumstances of play that bring to life words such as courage, dedication, vision, fair play, integrity, and excellence.

The Pro Football Hall of Fame has welcomed nearly 10 million fans. Each year, visitors travel from every state in the United States and up to 60 to 70 foreign countries to tour the Hall of Fame.

Today, the Hall of Fame reaches tens of millions of additional football fans each year through broad outreach such as national televised events, an in-depth website, educational and youth programs, social media, traveling exhibits, and special events held around the country.

In its day-to-day operation, the Pro Football Hall of Fame works very closely with all facets of the pro football family - the National Football League, the 32 NFL clubs, and other entities. The cooperative efforts of all of these organizations have contributed greatly to the overall success of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. In turn, the Hall strives to serve as the best possible historical showplace and repository for the sport of pro football.

The Hall of Fame is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit educational institution that focuses on honoring the heroes of the game, preserving its history, promoting its values, and celebrating excellence EVERYWHERE.

HISTORY

The Pro Football Hall of Fame is located in Canton, Ohio, for three primary reasons; (1) the American Professional Football Association, later renamed the National Football League, was founded in Canton on Sept. 17, 1920. (2) the Canton Bulldogs were an early-day pro football power, even before the days of the NFL. They were also the first two-time champion of the NFL in 1922 and 1923. The great Jim Thorpe, the first big-name athlete to play pro football, played his first pro football with the Bulldogs, starting in 1915. (3) Canton citizens early in the 1960s launched a determined and well-organized campaign to earn the site designation for their city.

The National Football League awarded the site for the Hall of Fame to Canton in 1961. Groundbreaking for the original construction took place on August 11, 1962 and the Hall opened its doors for the first time on September 7, 1963. Four expansions were completed over the years (1971, 1978, 1995, and 2012-13) that have resulted in the museum growing from its original 19,000 square feet to today's 118,000-square-foot football facility.

David Baker was named President & Executive Director on January 6, 2014. Baker served as the Commissioner of the Arena Football League for 12 years from 1996 to 2008. The 6'9" Baker was a power forward and captain of the basketball team at the University of California at Irvine from 1971-75. He also played two seasons of professional basketball in Europe before returning to obtain a Juris Doctorate degree from Pepperdine University School of Law where he served as Editor-in-Chief of the Law Review. As an attorney in California, Baker specialized in corporate mergers, acquisitions and real estate law. From 1984-88 he served as a City Councilman and Mayor of Irvine, California. For four years before taking his position at the Hall of Fame, he worked as a Partner in Union Village, LLC, the largest healthcare project in the United States creating thousands of jobs in Henderson, Nevada as the first Integrated Health Village in the world. Previous directors of the Hall of Fame were: Dick McCann (1962-67), Dick Gallagher (1968-1975), Pete Elliott (1979-1996), John Bankert (1996-2005), and Steve Perry (2006-2014).

HOURS OF OPERATION

The Pro Football Hall of Fame is open every day of the year except for Christmas. From Memorial Day through Labor Day, it is open daily from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. The hours for the remainder of the year are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Admission is $24.00 for adults, $17.00 for children 12 and under. Senior citizens, 62 and older, are admitted for $20.00. INSIDE THE HALL

The Hall represents its sport in a great many colorful and entertaining ways. A spectacular new look is presented to visitors through the recently completed expansion and renovation project in 2013 as well as other exhibit galleries that were renovated in recent years.

Visitors enter the museum through the new grand lobby at the center of the building. This area also features a special exhibit gallery with ever-changing themed displays. The story of why the Hall of Fame is in Canton is also chronicled in this area.

Guests then begin their visit by walking through a time tunnel of images featuring players from current years spanning back to the beginning of the National Football League. The visitor experience explodes with a visually dynamic and interactive two-level exhibit area in the Hall of Fame's original rotunda. "The NFL's First Century Gallery" opened in the spring of 2013. The center of the ground level includes a towering bronze statue of Jim Thorpe, considered a legend of pro football dating back to his days with the Canton Bulldogs beginning in 1915. The exhibits on the first level present a panoramic view using high-tech interactives and one-of-a-kind artifacts to tell the story of professional football, from its humble beginnings in the early 20th century to the worldwide phenomenon it has become today.

The second floor of "The NFL's First Century" features historical information regarding professional football in several dramatic themes. Inspirational stories of the game's pioneers, great players, coaches, and circumstances are told in vivid detail. Pro football's societal impact is also documented in "Road to Equality" and "Pop Culture." Bringing these themes to life are audio and video interactives and larger-than-life photographic murals.

Perhaps the most emotional stop during a tour of the museum is the Hall of Fame Gallery that houses the bronze busts of each of the Hall of Famers. Visitors also have the opportunity to learn about each member of the Hall through touch screen kiosks that include bios, photos, and videos on the inductees.

The "Moments, Memories & Mementos Gallery" focuses on the achievements made by the members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. High-tech video, audio, and lighting help bring treasured artifacts to life in dynamic fashion.

The "Pro Football Today Gallery" examines contemporary themes in the NFL. This area is filled with mementos from recent history-making performances.

The "Lamar Hunt Super Bowl Gallery" chronicles, in dramatic fashion, the exciting history of the game from Super Bowl I to present. The gallery uses one-of-a-kind artifacts, exciting game footage and interactive kiosks to help tell the story of how the Super Bowl has become a global event.

Super Bowl Theater, a turntable experience, presents the most recent NFL season and Super Bowl in spectacular fashion using the latest technology and the creative works of NFL Films.

As visitors leave the exhibit level of the Hall and return to the ground floor, they enter into an interactive area that includes many exciting hands-on experiences including a Madden EA Sports video game suite.

HALL OF FAME STORE

A new expanded 7,500-square-foot Hall of Fame Store opened as part of the museum's massive expansion and renovation. The store carries a broad selection of merchandise from all 32 NFL teams including jerseys, t-shirts, hats, novelties, and much more.

In addition, the retail space also offers a wide variety of specially designed Hall of Fame merchandise, collectibles and more. The store is also available online at: ProFootballHOF.com.

RALPH WILSON, JR. PRO FOOTBALL RESEARCH AND PRESERVATION CENTER

The Ralph Wilson, Jr. Pro Football Research and Preservation Center, named after the Class of 2009 enshrinee and Buffalo Bills late founder/owner, was dedicated in August 2012. The state-of-the-art, 10,000-square-foot facility features a climate control system to protect the more than 25 million pages of information related to pro football that are housed in the archives. The collection includes rare documents, game programs, thousands of files, more than four million photographic images, magazines, a large book collection, hundreds of scrapbooks, and more.

Jerome Bettis was selected in the first round, 10th player overall, out of Notre Dame by the Los Angeles Rams in the 1993 NFL Draft. He finished second in the NFL in rushing during his rookie season after gaining 1,429 yards. Included in that total were his first career 100-yard and 200-yard rushing games, both of which came against the New Orleans Saints. His 212-yard day that season was a career-high. At the time he was only the eighth rookie in NFL history to rush for 200 yards in a game. His output that year marked the first of eight 1,000-yard seasons in his first nine years. He was named Rookie of the Year by numerous media outlets and was chosen as a first-team All-Pro and All-NFC.

Bettis led the Rams in rushing each of his three seasons with the club before he was traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers for a second- and fourth-round draft pick. He rebounded from a subpar year in 1995 with the Rams to earn Comeback Player of the Year and was again named first-team All-Pro in 1996, his first in the Steel City. Bettis gained 1,431 yards on 320 carries and scored 11 TDs for the division-winning Steelers.

The 5'11", 243-pound runner continued to carry the load for Pittsburgh. He was the Steelers' leading ground gainer eight times in 10 seasons. Bettis, a six-time Pro Bowler, retired following his lone Super Bowl appearance in the 2005 season (Super Bowl XL). The Steelers defeated the Seattle Seahawks, 21-10, in the game played in Bettis's hometown of Detroit.

At the time of his retirement, Bettis ranked fifth all-time in rushing with 13,662 yards on 3,479 career carries. Nicknamed "The Bus" for his bruising running style, he also scored 91 rushing touchdowns. He eclipsed the 100-yard mark in a game 61 times during the regular season and three more times in playoff games.

In addition to his rushing totals, Bettis amassed 1,449 yards on 200 receptions and 3 TDs. His combined net yardage (15,113) was 19th best all-time at the time of his retirement. Bettis also completed three passes, all for touchdowns in his 13-season, 192-game career.

Tim Brown proved to be everything that the Los Angeles Raiders had hoped for after selecting the Heisman Trophy winner out of Notre Dame in the first round, sixth overall, of the 1988 NFL Draft. Over the next 17 seasons, all but one year spent with the Raiders in Los Angeles and later Oakland, Brown developed into one of the greatest receivers of his era.

He managed to haul in 43 receptions and score 5 TDs as a rookie but it was as a kick returner that he received accolades. Brown was named first-team All-Pro and to the Pro Bowl after leading the NFL in kickoff returns (41 for 1,098 yards, 26.8 average, and 1 TD) and setting a rookie record for combined net yards.

Brown suffered a season-ending injury in the opener the following year. He returned in 1990 and was used mostly as a punt returner but also caught a combined 103 catches over the next three seasons. Then, in 1993, he had a breakout year as he registered 80 catches for 1,180 yards and 7 touchdowns. He followed that with back-to-back 89-catch seasons and recorded 90 receptions in 1996. All the while, he continued to be a productive punt returner for the team.

Starting in 1993, Brown recorded nine straight 1,000-yard seasons and 10 consecutive years with 75 or more catches. His best season came in 1997, a year in which he became the Raiders' all-time receiving leader. He caught 104 catches for 1,408 yards to win the NFL receiving title. He set a team record with seven 100-yard games and tied a NFL mark with five games with 150-plus yards receiving. Brown was named to the Sporting News' All-Pro team that season. He also enjoyed his seventh of nine Pro Bowl berths.

Brown was named first-team All-AFC six times – once as a kick returner, once as a punt returner, and four times at wide receiver. He was also named to the NFL's All-Decade Team of the 1990s.

He retired after one final season with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2004 as the third all-time leading receiver with 1,094 receptions for 14,934 yards, and 100 touchdowns. At the time he also ranked fifth in career combined net yardage with 19,682 yards.

Charles Haley joined the San Francisco 49ers in 1986 as the team's fourth round draft pick. He developed into one of the NFL's most devastating pass rushers during a career split between the 49ers and the Dallas Cowboys.

He is the only player in NFL history to win five Super Bowls. Haley was a member of two 49ers' championship teams (Super Bowls XXIII and XXIV) before his trade to Dallas. He earned three more Super Bowl rings during his first four seasons with the Cowboys.

Haley began his NFL career at linebacker and led San Francisco in sacks in each of his first six seasons. He recorded four double-digit sack totals with the 49ers including 12 sacks as a rookie and a career-high and NFC-leading 16 sacks in 1990.

He was moved to defensive end after his trade to Dallas and continued to excel at pressuring the quarterback. He added two more double-digit sack seasons in 1994 and 1995. Haley then suffered a serious back injury in 1996 that limited him to just five games. He retired after undergoing surgery.

However, after a two-year hiatus, Haley resigned with the 49ers as a backup defensive end for two playoff games in 1998. He came back to play one final season in 1999 and added three sacks to his career total.

When he walked away for the final time, Haley had amassed 100.5 sacks during his 169-game career. He was twice named NFC Defensive Player of the Year (1990 and 1994), voted to five Pro Bowls and named All-Pro two times, once as a linebacker and once as a defensive end.

He played in six NFC championship games over a seven-season period. He started at left outside linebacker for the 49ers in the 1988, 1989, and 1990 games and at right defensive end for the Cowboys in the conference championships in 1992, 1993, and 1994. He was inactive for the Cowboys' victory in the 1995 NFC Championship Game.

Haley was a member of 10 division championship teams during his 12-season NFL career. His final season marked the only year he played on a team with a losing record. Prior to that, the fewest number of wins in a season any 49ers and Cowboys team recorded with Haley on the roster was 10.

MEDIA GUIDE EXCERPT

2011 Indianapolis Colts Media Guide biography

DOES NOT INCLUDE POLIAN'S FINAL SEASON (2011)

In his 14th season in Indianapolis, Bill Polian serves as Vice Chairman of the Colts. Polian joined the club in 1998, and he has guided the franchise through a remarkable period of success. Polian oversees all football and administrative aspects of the Colts. His football blueprint has established a period of achievement that ranks among the best accomplished in the NFL's 91 seasons.

Since Polian's arrival, no team has had more playoff appearances than the Colts. The Colts are the only team to make the playoffs 11 times in the last 12 seasons, reaching the divisional, conference or league title round in six of the past eight years and to the Super Bowl twice since 2006. In 2010, the club tied the NFL record with a ninth consecutive playoff appearance and the Colts are the only team with 10+ victories and playoff berths annually since the 2002 realignment. Since 1999, the club has a 138-54 (.719) mark, the NFL's winningest regular-season team by four games over its nearest competitor.

The Colts have won eight division titles (1999, 2003-07, 09-10) during Polian's tenure. The Colts (four times) join New England (three) and Chicago and San Francisco (twice) as the only franchises with 50+ regular-season victories in a four-year span. From 2000-09, the Colts (115-45) set the NFL mark for most wins in a decade. The club's nine playoff berths tied the NFL record of Dallas in the 1970s. The club also earned 23 consecutive regular-season victories during 2008-09, the NFL record.

The 2010 Colts battled through injuries to post a ninth straight season with 10+ victories, the NFL's second-longest streak. From 2003-09, Indianapolis set NFL marks with seven consecutive seasons with 11+ (6, Dallas, 1976-81) and 12+ victories (4, Dallas, 1992-95). From 2004-09, Indianapolis was the only team to win seven or more consecutive regular-season games in six straight seasons, closing that span by becoming just the third team to open a season with 14 victories and winning the AFC Championship, 30-17 over the New York Jets.

In 2006, the Colts captured a fourth World Championship with a 29-17 victory over Chicago in Super Bowl XLI. It was the club's first title appearance in 36 years. That same character, resilience and commitment propelled the club to Super Bowl XLIV against New Orleans, capping one of the NFL's top decades of accomplishment by any franchise.

In 2002, Polian oversaw the hiring of Tony Dungy. Together they forged seven consecutive playoff teams, and Dungy became the winningest Colts head coach. Polian led the hiring of Jim Caldwell in 2009. Caldwell became the first NFL coach to win his first 14 games and the fifth rookie head coach to reach the Super Bowl. Caldwell is one of four head coaches ever to produce 24+ regular-season victories and a Super Bowl berth in a career-opening two-year span.

Polian and pro football success are synonymous. In 23 seasons as a general manager or president with Indianapolis, Carolina and Buffalo, his teams have made 17 playoff, eight championship game and five Super Bowl appearances, while winning a World Championship. Polian's Buffalo teams made the Super Bowl three times and returned again the year after his departure. He built Carolina into the winningest expansion franchise in sports history, reaching the NFC Championship game in year two. He helped build Grey Cup title teams with two CFL franchises (Montreal and Winnipeg).

Polian's teams have earned a combined regular-season record of 238-145. Discounting the start-up seasons of 1985-86 at Buffalo, 1995 at Carolina and 1998 in Indianapolis, his mark is 222-97, a .696 winning percentage. Polian has been part of 13 11+ victory seasons and has won a division crown at every stop. From 2003-09, his teams had 81 victories in 100 regular-season games, tying the highest 100-game NFL victory total.

Polian's record is unique among NFL administrators. In a 2009 vote of his peers, Polian became the first six-time winner of the Executive of the Year award from The Sporting News. Polian eclipsed a tie with the late George Young. Polian, Young and the late Jim Finks are the only multiple recipients of the award.

A keen judge of talent, Polian's expertise has transformed the Colts. His draft classes have yielded QB-Peyton Manning, RBs-Edgerrin James and Joseph Addai, WRs-Reggie Wayne, Anthony Gonzalez, Pierre Garcon and Austin Collie, DEs-Dwight Freeney and Robert Mathis, DBs-Bob Sanders, Antoine Bethea, Marlin Jackson and Jerraud Powers, OT-Ryan Diem, OGS-Jake Scott, Mike Pollak, Jamey Richard and TE-Dallas Clark, among others. Polian found key free agents in C-Jeff Saturday, K-Mike Vanderjagt, RB-Dominic Rhodes, LB-Gary Brackett and DBs-Melvin Bullitt and Jacob Lacey. Manning, James, Addai, Clark, WR-Marvin Harrison, Wayne, Freeney, Mathis, Vanderjagt, OT-Tarik Glenn, Saturday, LB-Cato June, Bethea and Sanders reached the Pro Bowl during Polian's tenure.

Polian was a pro scout for Kansas City in 1978. He worked five years there before moving to Winnipeg as personnel director. He helped build a team that won two CFL titles. He served as personnel director with Chicago of the USFL in 1984. Polian joined Buffalo in 1984 as pro personnel director and was promoted to general manager on December 30, 1985. Polian presented former Buffalo Head Coach Marv Levy at his Pro Football Hall of Fame induction in 2001.

Polian served as Vice President of Football Development for the NFL in 1993. He helped formulate and implement the NFL's current Collective Bargaining Agreement. Long active in NFL affairs, Polian serves as a member of the Competition Committee, Diversity Committee, Management Council Senior Executive Committee and is Chairman of the College Relations Committee.

Will Shields, a 6'3", 320-pound guard out of Nebraska, was drafted in the third round of the 1993 NFL Draft by the Kansas City Chiefs. He was placed into the lineup in his first NFL game after the team's starting left guard Dave Stott suffered an injury. The next week, the offensive line was shuffled and Shields was inserted as the starting right guard. He started every game from that point through his retirement after the 2006 season. Shields never missed a game during his 14-season career and his 224 games played and 223 starts are franchise records.

As a rookie he helped the Chiefs to an 11-5-0 mark and the AFC Western Division crown. It marked the first division title for Kansas City since 1971. In all, the Chiefs won four division titles and made six playoff appearances during Shields' career.

He earned his first Pro Bowl berth following the 1995 season and embarked on a string of 12 straight AFC-NFC Pro Bowl berths that ran through the end of his career. He was named first-team All-Pro in 1999, 2002, and 2003 and picked as a second-team All-Pro choice four other times. Shields was named All-AFC seven times including in each of his final six seasons.

Shields was the anchor of an offensive line that helped the Chiefs field potent offenses. In fact, five of the Chiefs best seasons for most net yards came during Shields tenure. He and his linemates helped Kansas City lead the entire NFL in total yards gained in 2004 and 2005. They also topped the AFC in that category in 2003. The team led the NFL in points scored in 2002 and again in 2003 highlighted by running back Priest Holmes' then-record 27 rushing touchdowns in '03. In 1994, he and his linemates established a franchise record by allowing a mere 19 sacks.

He is a member of the NFL's All-Decade Team of the 2000s. He joined Hall of Fame linebacker Derrick Thomas in 1999 as the only active players to be named to the Chiefs' 40th Anniversary Team.

2006 Kansas City Chiefs Media Guide biography

DOES NOT INCLUDE SHIELDS FINAL SEASON (2006)

Ironman right guard is arguably one of the finest players to ever play his position in NFL history ... Should certainly receive strong consideration for the Pro Football Hall of Fame once his playing career is concluded ... Will undoubtedly have his name someday affixed to the facade of Arrowhead Stadium as a member of the Chiefs Hall of Fame ... Owns a franchise-record streak of 11 consecutive Pro Bowl berths, the longest active streak in the NFL and the most total Pro Bowl appearances in Kansas City history ... Is clearly worthy of being mentioned as one of the all-time great players in the illustrious history of the Chiefs franchise, not just for his consistently high level of performance on the field, but also for the ongoing personal commitment he and his family have made to the Kansas City community ... Has unquestionably been a cornerstone upon which much of the Chiefs success has been built since he joined the club as an unheralded third-round draft choice in '93 ... Will seek to add another chapter to his illustrious legacy in Kansas City as he embarks on his 14th professional season in 2006 ... Is the longest-tenured player on the Kansas City roster, owning three more years of service with the club than his next-closest competitor DT John Browning, who joined the team in '96 ... Has played in a franchise-record 208 consecutive regular season games dating back to first game of his rookie campaign ... Needing to see duty in

Qualified for Postseason in Bold
(Division Finish in Parentheses)

five contests this season to surpass K Nick Lowery (212) for the most games of service given to the franchise ... His 207 career starts are the highest total in team history ... In fact, only Green Bay QB Brett Favre (221) enters the 2006 campaign with a longer active starting streak than Shields' string of 207 straight games dating back to the second contest of the '93 campaign at Houston (9/12/93) ... Is one of only four players since the AFL-NFL merger to own a streak of 200 or more consecutive starts, joining OL Bruce Matthews (229), Favre (221) and G Randall McDaniel (202) ... Of the seven modern-era guards in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, only Oakland's Gene Upshaw (217) has played in more career games than Shields. Other members of that distinguished HOF guard group include: Joe DeLamielleure (185 games), Tom Mack (184), John Hannah (183), Larry Little (183), Mike Munchak (159) and Billy Shaw (119) ... Saw his initial NFL duty at Tampa Bay (9/5/93), a game that also marked the debuts of Pro Football Hall of Famers QB Joe Montana and RB Marcus Allen in Kansas City uniforms ... Has been a mainstay in the Kansas City lineup since his initial NFL start a week later at Houston (9/12/93) ... Along with Chiefs Hall of Famer Ed Budde is the only other guard in team history to merit multiple Pro Bowl invitations. Budde was honored as an AFL All-Star or AFC Pro Bowler seven times ('64, '67-'72) ... Pairs with 11-time Pro Bowl T Willie Roaf to give Kansas City a guard-tackle tandem with a combined 22 Pro Bowl appearances, the highest total of any active duo in the league ... As decorated as he is on the field, is perhaps even more highly regarded for his efforts off the field ... Was named the 2003 Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year, the most prestigious accolade that can be bestowed upon an active player ... Received that honor from Commissioner Paul Tagliabue prior to Super Bowl XXXVIII in Houston, Texas on January 30, 2004 ... Became the fourth player in Kansas City history to earn the Man of the Year trophy, joining the illustrious likes of Pro Football Hall of Fame enshrinees LB Willie Lanier ('72) and QB Len Dawson ('73), as well as the late nine-time Pro Bowl LB Derrick Thomas ('93) ... Only the Chicago Bears boast as many Man of the Year winners as the Chiefs ... Mild-mannered performer speaks volumes with his consistently high level of play ... Has been a key reason Kansas City has led the NFL in total offense each of the past two seasons ... Has helped pave the way for four of the five-best single-season rushing performances in franchise history, all of which have occurred over the past five seasons courtesy of RBs Priest Holmes and Larry Johnson ... Since being drafted by the Chiefs, has protected four starting QBs who have earned a Pro Bowl berth with the franchise: Trent Green (2003, 2005), Elvis Grbac (2000), Steve Bono ('99) and Montana ('93) ... Has been a key reason that Green has compiled a franchise-record streak of 80 consecutive starts since joining the club in 2001 ... Was a major factor in helping the Chiefs register more net yards of total offense (380.9 per game) over the past five seasons than any other team in the league ... An instinctive performer who can out-smart, out-maneuver or simply overpower opponents and is endowed with an innate ability to decipher the best means of attacking each particular adversary ... Is equally effective in the trenches or the open field and is particularly adept as a lead blocker on plays which require a pulling guard ... Truly gifted performer has made his name at right guard, but has seen action in three games at tackle for the club, including a start at left tackle vs. Carolina (12/10/00) ... During his 207-game starting streak, has started alongside eight different left tackles, nine different left guards, four different centers and 11 different right tackles ... Was a member of the Chiefs "40 Years in Kansas City 40-Man Squad" in 2002 and joined Thomas as the only other active player who was named to the Chiefs 40th Anniversary Team in '99 ... Despite his highly-decorated status, is a true team player who puts the good of the whole ahead of his own personal gain ... Considered one of the most valuable performers on the Kansas City roster ... Has been a guiding influence in the development of two-time Pro Bowl G Brian Waters, who entered the NFL as a rookie free agent in '99 and joined the Chiefs in 2000 ... For eight seasons was the junior member of the offensive line "Law Firm" which was referred to in the Arrowhead locker room as the single entity of Szott, Grunhard and Shields. That interior line triumvirate is widely regarded as one of the finest in the illustrious history of the franchise. Started 125 contests alongside Grunhard, the highest total of any teammate during his career ... Was Kansas City's first pick in the '93 NFL Draft, going in the third round (74th overall) ... Arguably the steal of that year's annual selection meeting after being the 11th offensive lineman chosen.

Transactions: Signed a six-year contract with Kansas City (3/1/01) ... Signed a one-year tender as Kansas City's franchise player (8/2/00) ... Designated as Kansas City's franchise player (2/10/00) ... Signed a six-year contract with Kansas City (2/16/96) ... Signed three one-year contracts with Kansas City (5/3/93) ... Was Kansas City's top pick in the '93 NFL Draft, entering the league as a third-round (74th overall) selection.

2005: Started all 16 games and earned his 11th consecutive Pro Bowl berth ... Joined with T Willie Roaf and G Brian Waters to give the Chiefs three offensive linemen selected to the Pro Bowl for the second time in team history ... Joined with Waters to become the first guard duo to make back-to-back Pro Bowls since Cowboys guards Nate Newton and Larry Allen in '95-96 ... Was a second-team All-Pro selection by AP and was named All-AFC by Pro Football Weekly ... Helped RB Larry Johnson set the franchise single-season rushing record with 1,750 yards ... Played in his 200th career game vs. Oakland (11/6), joining K Nick Lowery (212) and P Jerrel Wilson (203) as the only players in franchise history to own 200 or more regular season game appearances ... Started his 200th consecutive game at Buffalo (11/13), becoming just the fourth player since the AFL-NFL merger to start 200 straight contests ... Started vs. Cincinnati (1/1/06), marking his 208th game played to move him into second on the club's all-time service chart. It was also his 207th consecutive start for the third-longest streak in the NFL since the AFL-NFL merger.

2004: Started 16 regular season games at right guard ... Earned his 10th straight trip to the Pro Bowl ... Joined G Brian Waters as a Pro Bowl selection, marking the first time two guards from the same team have made the Pro Bowl since Larry

Allen and Nate Newton did it for Dallas following the '95 season ... Earned second-team All-Pro honors from AP and Football Digest ... Named to the All-AFC team by Pro Football Weekly ... A key cog in a Chiefs offense that led the NFL in total offense for the first time in team history, averaging 418.2 yards per game ... Started at San Diego (1/2/05), extending the longest streak of games played (192) and games started (191) in team history.

2003: Started 16 regular season games at right guard ... Earned his ninth straight trip to the Pro Bowl ... An AP All-Pro selection ... Anchored an offensive line that helped RB Priest Holmes set an NFL single-season record with 27 rushing TDs ... Started his 172nd game in a Chiefs uniform at Denver (12/7) to pass C Jack Rudnay for the most starts in Kansas City history ... Opened his 175th regular season game in a Chiefs uniform vs. Chicago (12/28), extending his record for the most starts in Kansas City history ... Started the club's AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. Indianapolis (1/11/04).

2002: Started all 16 games at right guard ... Was selected to his eighth consecutive Pro Bowl, the longest streak by an offensive player in franchise history ... That same offensive line was also proficient in protecting the passer, allowing an AFC-low 21.0 sacks ... Opened at right guard at Cleveland (9/24), but injuries to starting tackles John Alt and Jeff Criswell forced him to step in at the right tackle spot despite never previously taking a snap at that position.

1994: Started all 16 regular season games, plus one playoff contest at right guard ... Was a key reason the Chiefs permitted just 19.0 sacks, the fewest in Kansas City history.

1993: Played in all 16 games (15 starts) at right guard as a rookie ... Also started three playoff contests ... His 18 combined starts were the most ever by a Chiefs rookie ... Named to almost every all-rookie squad, including Pro Football Weekly, Football News and Football Digest ... Earned the club's Mack Lee Hill Award, the team's most prestigious rookie honor ... Saw his first pro action at right guard when Dave Szott, the team's starting left guard, suffered a knee injury in the season opener at Tampa Bay (9/5) and starting right guard Danny Villa took Szott's spot ... The following week at Houston (9/12), Villa moved to left guard and Shields began his starting streak at right guard.

Mick Tingelhoff was originally signed by the Minnesota Vikings as a free agent out of the University of Nebraska in 1962. Tingelhoff earned a starting nod at center as a rookie and never relinquished the role for the remainder of his stellar 17-season career.

At 6'2", 237 pounds, he was known for his durability, toughness, and perseverance. He never missed a game and started all 240 regular season games of his career that ended with his retirement after the 1978 season. He also played in 19 playoff games during his NFL career.

Tingelhoff anchored an offensive line that helped the Vikings claim 10 divisional titles in an 11-season span from 1968 to 1978. Minnesota recorded 10 or more wins during the time of 14-game seasons seven times in an eight-year span.

A team leader, he was adept on pass protection for his scrambling quarterback Fran Tarkenton who became the NFL's all-time leading passer. During two different stints in Minnesota, the Hall of Fame quarterback eclipsed the 2,500-yard passing mark nine times. Tarkenton became the Vikings' first 3,000-yard passer when he aired it out for a franchise record 3,468 yards in Tingelhoff's final season. A great run blocker, Tingelhoff also paved the way for Chuck Foreman who strung together three straight 1,000-yard rushing seasons (1975-77).

Tingelhoff guided the Vikings to victories in four of the five NFL/NFC championships in which the team played and helped the club reach four Super Bowls (IV, VIII, IX, and XI).

As a center, he had to take on opponents' middle linebackers and he played in an era and a division that included three notable Hall of Famers in Joe Schmidt of the Detroit Lions, Ray Nitschke of the Green Bay Packers, and the Chicago Bears' Dick Butkus.

Tingelhoff received national accolades by his third season in 1964 that marked the first of seven consecutive seasons in which he was named first-team All-NFL. In 1969, he was named to the 1,000-yard Club as the NFL's top blocker. He was also elected to the Pro Bowl six straight times from 1965 to 1970. Tingelhoff was inducted into the Vikings Ring of Honor in 2001.

Ron Wolf began his long and successful run in the National Football League as a scout for the Oakland Raiders in 1963. For almost four decades he was recognized as one of the finest personnel men in the league and made his lasting mark as the longtime player personnel director for the Raiders and later as the Executive Vice President/General Manager of the Green Bay Packers.

Wolf first left the Raiders in 1966 to work for the American Football League's office but returned to the Raiders several months later after the AFL merged with the NFL. He continued on in Oakland until, at age 37, was named the general manager of the expansion Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He built the foundation that earned the team a trip to the NFC championship by its fourth season. However, by that time, Wolf was back with the Raiders and played an integral role in the team's sustained success. In the 23 seasons Wolf was with the Raiders, the team posted winning seasons in all but six years, claimed 10 division titles, played in eight AFL/AFC championship games and three Super Bowls including victories in Super Bowls XV and XVIII.

In 1990, Wolf began a brief stint with the New York Jets before he was named Executive Vice President/General Manager of the Green Bay Packers late in the 1991 season. He quickly resurrected the once-proud franchise. The Packers improved from 4-12 in 1991 to 9-7 in 1992, Wolf's first full season on the job. The Packers added two more 9-7 records that earned playoff berths and then, in 1995, the team finished 11-5 to claim its first division title in 23 seasons. It marked the first of three straight NFC Central Division titles for the Packers, the last two of which culminated with Super Bowl appearances.

The 1996 Packers posted the first 16-win season in franchise history. The club won the NFC Central with a 13-3 record and followed with victories over the San Francisco 49ers in the divisional playoff and the Carolina Panthers in the NFC championship. The magical season was capped by a thrilling 35-21 win over the New England Patriots in Super Bowl XXXI as Green Bay once again earned the moniker, "Titletown, U.S.A."

MEDIA GUIDE EXCERPT

Biography provided by the
Green Bay Packers

Ron Wolf, Executive Vice President /
General Manager 1991-2001

Decisive, dedicated and determined, Ron Wolf arrived upon the Green Bay scene in late 1991 with a mandate to win -- and rescue the Packers from a quarter-century of mediocrity.

Nine years later, having done precisely that, the team's astute executive vice president and general manager has been accorded his just due -- enshrinement in the Packer Hall of Fame -- in the heady and remarkable wake of seven consecutive winning seasons, six straight playoff berths, a Super Bowl triumph and back-to-back appearances in pro football's ultimate game.

Highly appropriate recognition for one who has done it all, professionally speaking, Wolf thus became the 124th member of the Green Bay shrine during a ceremony conducted July 28, 2000, joining the late Vince Lombardi, another major architect of singular

Packer success in an earlier time.

Wolf was accorded the ultimate honor for presiding over one of the most comprehensive turnabouts in National Football League history during his eight-year tenure, converting the Green and Gold from perennial also-rans into consistent winners, Super Bowl champions and the standard of the pro football world.

An underlying component of the Packers' revival has been Wolf's strength in selecting players in the annual NFL Draft, particularly in the later rounds. An amazing 75 percent of his draftees since 1993 -- 48 of 64 over an eight-year span -- were still playing in the National Football League at the conclusion of the 1999 season. His rate of success in determining NFL-quality talent clearly rates among the league's best, especially when viewed against the backdrop of the regular player movement that goes hand-in-hand with the current era of free agency.

The eight-year record under Wolf, with a 92-50 overall mark as the centerpiece, is remarkable. In addition to the aforementioned seven consecutive winning seasons and six straight playoff berths, it has included:

- Back-to-back Super Bowl appearances (1996 and 1997) and Green Bay's first Super Bowl championship in 29 years (1996)
- Back-to-back NFC championships (1996 and 1997)
- Three consecutive NFC Central Division titles (1995-96-97)
- The first string of four double-digit winning regular seasons for a Green Bay team since 1929-32 (11-5 in 1995, 13-3 in both 1996 and 1997 and 11-5 in 1998)
- The first 16-victory campaign in the Packers' now 81-year history (1996)
- The second-longest home-field winning streak in NFL history, 25 straight regular-season games
- An amazing 49 wins in the last 55 games -- including playoffs -- in the team's Lambeau Field home.

Much of those successes having been achieved in partnership with Mike Holmgren (1992-98), now general manager and head coach of the Seattle Seahawks. Wolf (took) on the challenge of following that stellar "act" with a new partner...Mike Sherman, who returns to Green Bay as head coach after serving as tight ends coach under Holmgren in 1997-98 and as offensive coordinator for Seattle, also under Holmgren, in 1999.

Tireless, aggressive and uncommonly resourceful, Wolf has emphatically fulfilled the commitment he made in taking over the Packers' football operations in late November of 1991, launching the renaissance of a franchise that had had only four winning seasons during a 24-year span. And, in the history-making process, he has made a more profound impact upon the Packers organization and its artistic fortunes than anyone since the arrival of the legendary Lombardi upon the Green Bay scene 41 years ago.

As the recent record eloquently suggests, seldom has anyone responded to a challenge with greater celerity than the man who earlier had played a major role in developing the Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders into one of professional football's most successful franchises.

In appreciation for his considerable achievements, Wolf twice has been rewarded with three-year extensions of his original five-year contract -- the first in 1994 and the most recent on April 7, 1997. The latest document will have him presiding over the Packers' competitive fortunes through the year 2002.

Packers President Bob Harlan paid tribute to Wolf's accomplishments in announcing the most recent extension, asserting, "I think Ron is the best general manager in the National Football League, and he obviously has done a remarkable job in the past seven years to put us back on top in the league.

"I also think continuity and stability in that position are vitally important. And this is a way for us to show our appreciation for his accomplishments."

Wolf, in turn, calls his "the ultimate job" in his profession, "particularly (for) a person at my level. Green Bay is it, as far as I'm concerned, for that very reason. There isn't an owner whose ego needs to be stroked. You're given everything you need to do the job. To me, that's so important. Nobody has denied us anything."

A man with a deep appreciation for the game and its history -- and the Packers' history and tradition, in particular -- he said at the announcement of his second contract extension, "To me, it's a distinct honor to be able to continue my association with professional football's most historic and traditional franchise, the Green Bay Packers. It's an honor and a privilege."

In the months that followed his 1991 hiring, Wolf executed two significant trades, then later supplemented his new club with a series of shrewd acquisitions via the waiver wire and free agent market.

The key transaction saw him acquire Brett Favre, a highly-talented young quarterback, from the Atlanta Falcons with a first-round draft choice, a move that has paid spectacular dividends, Favre having presided over the offense in each of its seven consecutive winning seasons from 1992-98 and been acclaimed as the NFL's 'Most Valuable Player' for a record three consecutive years (1995, 1996 and 1997) while leading the Packers to a Super Bowl victory in 1996 and a return to pro football's ultimate game in 1997. . .

In the wake of that remarkable turnaround -- the Packers had been 4-and-12 in 1991 after going 6-and-10 in 1990 -- Wolf was saluted as 'NFL Executive of the Year' by The Sporting News, thus becoming the first Packer executive ever to be so honored. Harlan, the Packers' chief executive officer -- and the man who hired him -- offers a specific analysis as to why perhaps Wolf succeeded where others before him failed.

"I think I can tell you, Ron Wolf spends every minute of every waking hour thinking about what he can do to make this football team better," Harlan said. "He's dedicated and working at it so constantly. With that work ethic, you think, 'We're going to make it.' In 1993, Wolf further bolstered the team's talent level by venturing aggressively into the free agent market, following the advent of unrestricted free agency, bringing in Reggie White, considered by many the greatest defensive end in pro football history, and starting guard Harry Galbreath, among others...

...Already recognized throughout the National Football League for triggering the Packers' return to prominence during his tenure in the organization, Wolf also was saluted for his skill and cooperation in another, related area, when he was honored by the Pro Football Writers of America following the 1995 season for his contributions to their professional efforts. The PFWA announced that Wolf had been selected to receive the organization's prestigious 'Horrigan Award,' presented annually "to the league official or player for his or her professional style in helping football writers do their job." The award is named in honor of the late Jack Horrigan, former publicity director of the American Football League and vice president of public relations for the Buffalo Bills...

In the interim, the National Quarterback Club has honored Wolf for his multiple contributions to the Packers' artistic renaissance. He was presented with the organization's 'Lifetime Achievement Award' at its annual recognition dinner (June 4, 1998). He also was saluted in 1998 by the Anti-Defamation League, which presented him with its 'World of Difference Award.'

The Packers' dramatic turnaround since Wolf's arrival accompanied by increasingly high expectations from the team's excited loyalists, has documented Harlan's decision to bring him in late in 1991 with total authority over the organization's football operation.

"When we started the search to fill the position," Harlan said at the time of the announcement, "we put together a list of eight names. Ron's name was at the top of the list."

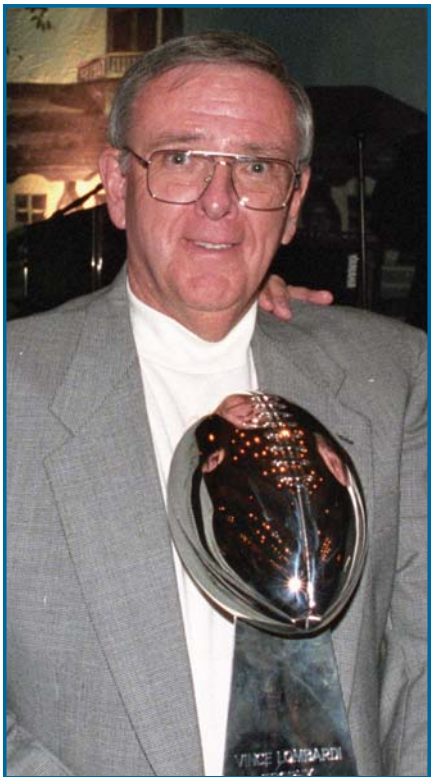

Wolf, who previously had spent 25 years in the front office of the Raiders, took over a position new to the Packers' organizational structure in terms of authority and responsibility, said authority including hiring and supervising the head coach and the scouting staff, conducting the draft and making all football decisions for the organization.

Wolf launched his professional football career under Davis in 1963 when he joined the then-fledgling Raiders as a talent scout.

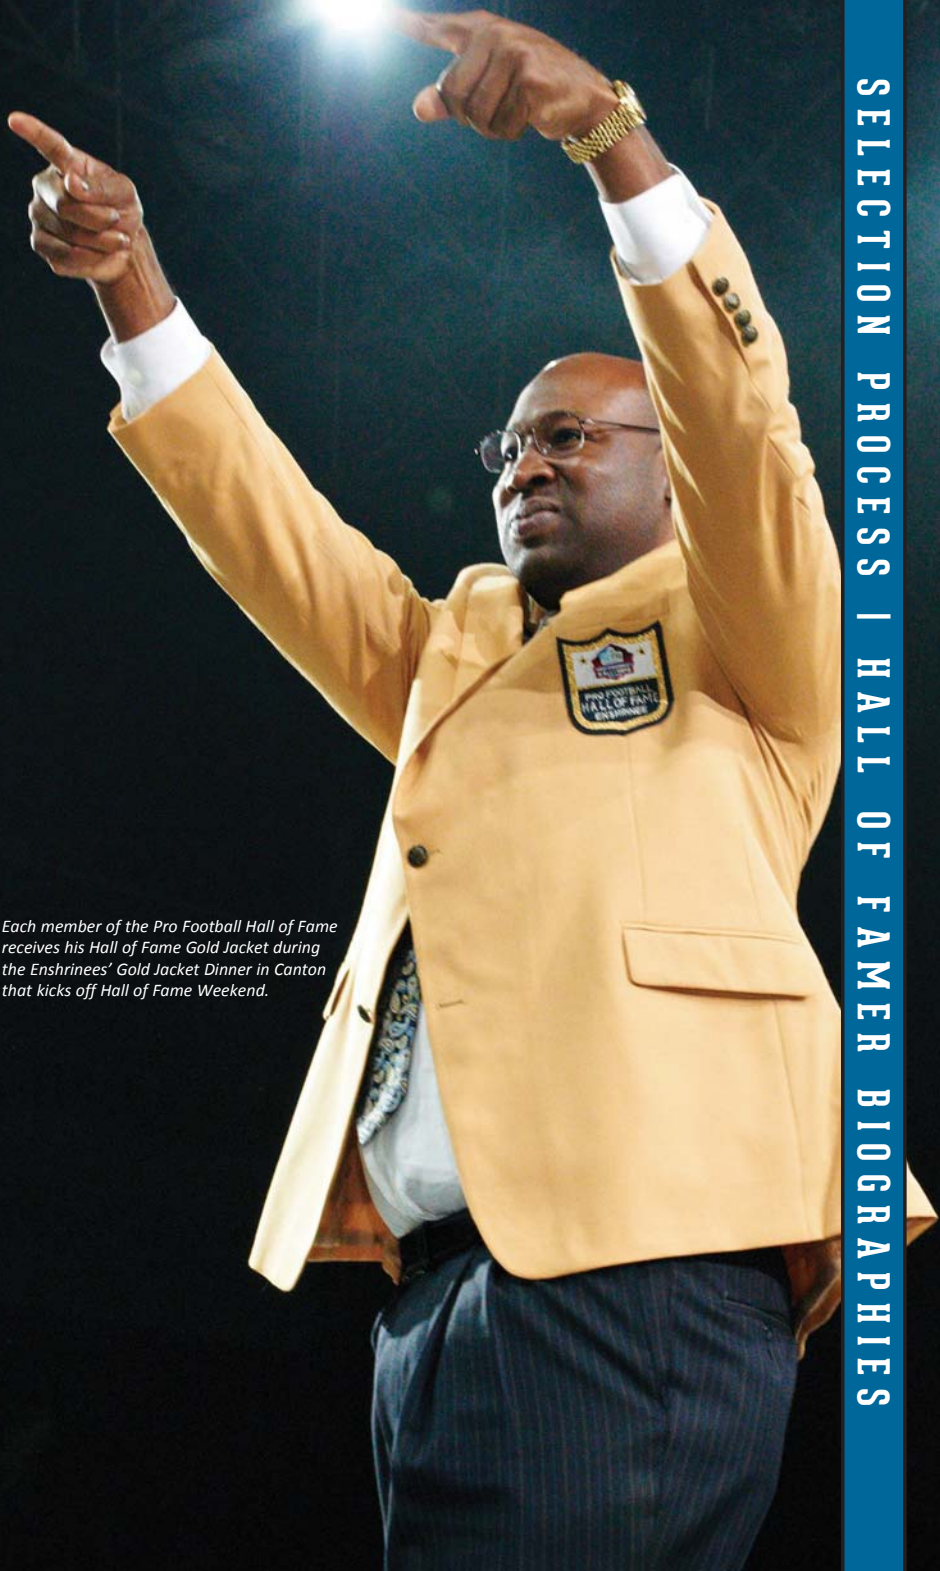

Subsequently, when Davis was named American Football League commissioner in 1966, Wolf accompanied him to the league office as the AFL's coordinator of talent. He returned to the Raiders with Davis prior to the opening of the 1966 season and played a major role in the club's personnel operation until the spring of 1975.

At that time, the then 37-year-old Wolf was named to oversee the formation of the newly-franchised Tampa Bay Buccaneers of the NFL as vice president of operations. He remained in that capacity until 1978, when he re-joined the Raiders, for whom he headed up player personnel operations until he signed on with the Jets organization in June of 1990.

His efforts in behalf of the Tampa Bay franchise bore fruit in 1979 when the players Wolf assembled carried the Buccaneers to the NFC Central title and, in the playoffs, as far as the National Football Conference Championship Game before they bowed to the then-Los Angeles Rams in a defensive struggle, 9-0.

SELECTION PROCESS

Charged with the vital task of continuing to be certain that new enshrinees are the finest the game has produced is the Pro Football Hall of Fame's 46-person Selection Committee.

The Committee consists of one media representative from each pro football city with two from New York, inasmuch as that city has two teams in the National Football League. A 33rd member is a representative of the Pro Football Writers of America and there are 13 at-large delegates.

With the exception of the PFWA representative who is appointed for a two-year term, all appointments are of the open-end variety and can be terminated only by retirement or resignation, as long as the member continues to attend meetings regularly.

The Selection Committee meets annually at the time of the Super Bowl to elect new members. There is no set number for any class of enshrinees but, the Committee's current ground rules do stipulate that between four and eight new members will be selected each year. The 1973 and 1976 classes of three were the smallest ever named.

Every candidate is carefully scrutinized and must receive at least 80 percent approval of the Committee at the annual meeting before he can be elected. A scale of negative votes for elimination that will vary depending on the number of Selectors in attendance is used.

When the Selectors meet in February to name the Class of 2016, they will have before them a roster of 18 final candidates, along with detailed biographies on each. To assure that older players will be considered along with the younger breed, the Seniors Committee - made up of nine veteran members of the overall Selection Committee - will name two nominees from the pre-1990 era to be included on the final list.

A bylaws change to the selection process was approved by the Pro Football Hall of Fame's Board of Trustees in August 2014 by which a Contributor—defined as an individual who has "made outstanding contributions to professional football in capacities other than playing or coaching"—will automatically be included among the annual list of finalists for election. The Contributor finalist will also be voted on for election independent of all other finalists.

The Board, in an effort to address the backlog of deserving Contributor candidates, also approved a temporary measure allowing for two Contributor finalists in years one (starting with the Class of 2015), three and five, of the next five years. In years two and four of that same period, there will be just one Contributor finalist. At the end of the five-year period, the number of Contributor finalists going forward will be one per year.

To keep the maximum number of nominees elected at no more than eight per year, the Senior finalists will be reduced from two to one per year in years one, three and five of the same five-year period. In years two and four and each year thereafter, there will be two Senior finalists, as is now the practice.

The Contributor finalists will be selected annually, by five members, on a rotational basis, of a nine-member subcommittee of the Selection Committee.

The other finalists will be the survivors from a preliminary list of candidates that the Committee will have screened by mail ballot. That original list will have been in part provided by the fans themselves.

Any fan may nominate any qualified person who has been connected with pro football in any capacity simply by writing to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The only restriction is that a player and coach must have last played or coached at least five seasons before he can be considered. For example, a candidate for the 2016 class must have concluded his career no later than the 2010 season.

There is no mandatory retirement period for a contributor. Every nomination received will be processed and forwarded to the Selection Committee.

It is important to emphasize that the Hall of Fame itself has no say whatsoever as to who is or is not elected to membership. The only function of the staff is to process the nominations as they arrive and to coordinate the annual meeting.

FAQ ABOUT THE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME'S SELECTION PROCESS

Who Selects New Hall of Fame Members

Charged with the vital task of continuing to be certain that new enshrinees are the finest the game has produced is the Pro Football Hall of Fame's 46-person Selection Committee.

The Selection Committee consists of one media representative from each geographical area with a current NFL franchise. If a geographical area has more than one franchise (such as New York City) there shall be a selector for each franchise. A 33rd member is a representative of the Pro Football Writers of America and there are 13 at-large delegates.

The Selection Committee meets annually at the time of the Super Bowl to elect new members to the Hall of Fame. There is no set number of new enshrinees, but the Committee's current ground rules do stipulate that between four and eight new members will be selected each year. Every candidate is carefully scrutinized and must receive at least 80 percent approval of the Committee at the annual meeting before he can be elected.

How Are New Enshrinees Selected?

Any fan may nominate any player, coach or contributor who has been connected with pro football simply by writing to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The only restriction is that a player and coach must have been retired at least five years before he can be considered. There is no mandatory retirement period for a contributor before he may be considered. Every nomination of an eligible candidate received will be processed and forwarded to the Hall of Fame's Selection Committee.

Each year, the Selection Committee will be polled three times before the Final List of Preliminary Nominees is determined. The Initial Preliminary List of nominations is compiled and sent to the Hall of Fame's Selection Committee by March 1. The list is provided so that the selectors can study the nominees and then request the addition of any other candidates that may have been overlooked. Included on this list are first-time eligible candidates who have strong enough credentials to give them even a remote chance of eventual Hall of Fame election. Also included are all other eligible candidates nominated by any person. Additionally, those modern-era nominees from the previous year's final preliminary list who received at least four votes in the balloting to determine the modern-era finalists are automatically included on this preliminary list.

The Second Preliminary List is sent to the selectors during the month of September that includes all the nominees named on the earlier list plus any additional nominations received from any source since the first list was compiled.

The Third Preliminary List of eligible candidates is sent to the Selection Committee during the month of October for the purpose of the selection of the Modern Era semi-finalists for election. From the Third Preliminary List the Selection Committee is asked to vote for 25 Modern Era Semifinalists.

The Final Preliminary List of 25 modern-era candidates will be distributed to the Selection Committee during the month of November for the purpose of the selection of 15 Modern Era Nominees. The 16th, 17th, and 18th finalists are the recommended candidates of the Seniors Committee.

In advance of the Hall of Fame Selection Meeting in February, the selectors are provided detailed biographies on each of the 18 finalist candidates. At the annual meeting, each of the nominees is thoroughly discussed by the committee before a series of reduction votes are taken. First, the senior candidate(s) and Contributor candidate(s) are discussed and voted on for election. They must receive the same 80 percent affirmative vote as the modern-era candidates. Next, there is a vote that reduces the modern-era finalists list from 15 to 10. Following that, a vote is taken to reduce the list from 10 to 5 names. The five remaining candidates for Hall of Fame election are then voted on individually (yes or no) for membership.

In order to be elected a finalist must receive a minimum of 80% of the vote. All ballots are collected and counted by the firm Deloitte & Touche. No vote totals are announced – only the winners of the various reduction ballots are revealed to the selectors and the Hall's representatives.

How Are Senior and Contributor Candidates Chosen?

To assure that older players, whose active careers have been completed at least 25 years, as well as those individuals who contributed to the game in ways other than playing and coaching will be considered along with the Modern Era players, a Seniors Committee and a Contributors Committee, each made up of nine veteran members of the overall Selection Committee, have been established.

Like the full Committee, the members of the Seniors Committee are provided a preliminary list of eligible nominees. The list, which is compiled and mailed to the selectors by June 1, includes carry-over nominations from the previous year, first-time eligible candidates, and nominations from any outside source. By way of a mail ballot the Committee members reduce the list to 15 Senior Nominee finalists. Five members of the nine-man Committee, selected on a rotating basis, are designated to attend the annual Seniors Committee meeting held in Canton, where they are charged with the responsibility of nominating candidate(s) from that list to be among the 18 finalists for Hall of Fame election. In advance of the meeting, each selector is provided with detailed biographical information on the candidates.

Senior Committee members are assisted during their annual meeting by two Hall of Fame consultants, chosen by the Hall’s president, who were contemporaries of the majority of the nominees. The consultants offer only their opinions and are not entitled to vote. After each candidate is discussed thoroughly, the consultants are excused from the meeting. Additional discussion is conducted followed by a series of reduction votes that results in the naming of Senior Nominee(s).

Although the Senior Nominee(s) and Contributor Nominee(s) will be presented to the full Selection Committee as a finalist, their election to the Hall of Fame is not automatic. The Senior Nominee(s) and Contributor Nominee(s) must receive the same minimum 80% of the vote as a Modern Era candidate to be elected.

Bylaw changes instituted beginning with the Class of 2015 added the Contributor finalist who will be voted on independent of the other nominees. Like all other finalists, a Contributor nominee needs to receive an eighty percent positive vote for election by the 46-member Selection Committee.

Contributors have previously been part of the modern-era nomination list that included coaches and players. The result has been that since 1963, when the Hall of Fame first opened, only 19 Contributors have been elected and 10 of those were elected in the first five Hall of Fame classes, including six as Charter Members.

In an effort to address the backlog of deserving Contributor candidates, also approved in the change to the selection process is a temporary measure allowing for two Contributor finalists in years one (starting in 2015), three and five, of the next five years. In years two and four of that same period, there will be just one Contributor finalist. At the end of the five-year period, the number of Contributor finalists going forward will be one per year.

To keep the maximum number of nominees elected at no more than eight per year, the Senior finalists will be reduced from two to one per year in years one, three and five of the same five-year period. In years two and four and each year thereafter, there will be two Senior finalists, as is now the practice.

The Contributor finalists will be selected annually, by five members, on a rotational basis, of a nine-member subcommittee of the Selection Committee.

Is a New Hall of Fame Member Enshrined as a Member of a Team?

Obviously, teams take great pride in the accomplishments of individuals who have been a part of their organization. Often individual teams and even the Hall of Fame will list enshrinees according to the team or teams on which they spent a significant period of time. An enshrinee, however, is not asked to “declare,” nor does the Hall of Fame “choose” a team under which a new member is enshrined. When elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, an individual is recognized for his accomplishments as a player, coach, or contributor.

ELIGIBILITY CHART

A player or coach must not have played or coached for five full seasons before he is eligible for election to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The chart below can be used as a quick reference to determine when a player or coach will be, was, or is first eligible for the Hall of Fame. For instance, 2014 enshrinee Andre Reed last played in 2000. Therefore, he was first eligible for the Class of 2006. Counting upward from 2006, one can determine that he was elected in his ninth year of eligibility.

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAMERS BY TEAM

NOTE: In this listing – a Hall of Famer is named under all clubs on which he made his primary contribution to professional football – (i.e. – Chuck Noll is listed under Pittsburgh as a coach – but not under Cleveland as a player). Hall of Famers who made the major part of their primary contribution for any one club are listed in CAPS. In cases where a player contributed about equally and/or in a major way to two or more clubs – he is listed in CAPS under both clubs (i.e. Curley Culp is listed with both the Chiefs and the Titans (Oilers) as his primary teams). Hall of Famers who spent only a minor portion of their career with any club are listed under that club in lower case.

(The numbers inside of the parentheses following the team's name indicates the number of primary Hall of Famers followed by the number of Hall of Famers who spent a minor portion of their career with the team).

Year - Subscript next to Hall of Famer's name is the year of his induction.

ELECTION BY YEAR OF ELIGIBILITY & YEAR AS FINALIST

(Since 1970) * Seniors Candidate # Contributor Candidate
 – In those cases when a player’s career ended prior to 1963, the year of eligibility is based on the amount of years since the Hall opened in 1963 rather than the years from when the player last played.
 – Prior to 1970, the procedure of naming 15 Finalists was not defined. In 2007, bylaws changed to include 17 Finalists comprised of 15 Modern-Era nominees and two Senior Candidates. A Contributor category was added for the 2015 Selection Process bringing the total number of Finalists to 18.

At the time, the Hall of Fame By-Laws only required a coach to be retired and not the now five-season waiting period. Parcells returned to coach the Dallas Cowboys and the five-year waiting period was in effect when he retired from coaching in 2006 thereby making him eligible in 2012.

“The virtuous part of having this patience also means that the day I was selected to the Hall of Fame this last January couldn’t have been a better day because it would have been the 100th anniversary of the birth of Art Rooney, Sr., the founder of this football team.

“If 14 years had not passed, then I would not be here today with the great patience and support, and love of my wife Charena. Of being able to stand here in front of you and having my two sons Shafer and Braxton, who are five and three years old to be here and be a part of this afternoon. I’m glad 14 years passed so I could have this love and this family share in this moment with me.”

- Excerpt from Lynn Swann’s enshrinement speech on August 4, 2001. Swann was a finalist for 14 straight years.

FINALISTS BY YEAR

SINCE 1970. In 2007, bylaws were changed to stipulate 17 Finalists that include 15 Modern-Era nominees and two Senior Candidates. BOLD CAPS INDICATE THOSE ELECTED TO THE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME. ~ indicates Old-timer/Senior nominee. Selection of Old-timer/Senior candidate began in 1972. No nominee was picked in 1975. Two Senior nominees selected starting in 2004. # Subscript number indicates the number of times as finalist. No subscript number indicates a person's first time as finalist. NOTE: In some cases, there were 16 Finalists due to a tie in the voting. In 1975, there were only 14 Finalists. Contributor Finalist were added with the class of 2015. * Indicates contributor finalist Reduction votes during annual Selection Meeting. Since 2007, the selection process includes a cutdown of the 15 Modern-Era Finalists during the annual selection meeting separate of the two senior nominees. The Selection Committee first pares the list from 15 to 10; then 10 to 5. At that point, a yes or no vote is tabulated of the final five finalists. An individual is elected to the Hall of Fame if he receives at least 80 percent affirmative vote. The reduction votes have varied over the years. Included with this list are the reduction votes that took place under the rules at the time. In the past, the finalists numbered 15 that included 13 Modern-Era candidates and the two senior nominees and the senior nominees were included in the reduction vote. The reduction votes are listed from 1999 to 2012.

NFL/HALL OF FAME GAME

NFL/HALL OF FAME GAME

The NFL/Hall of Fame Game series began in 1962, one year before the museum opened. A National Football League preseason game has been played in Canton each year but twice since that inaugural game. No game was played in 1966 as the preseason schedule was not set in time to include Canton for a neutral site game. In 2011, the NFL lockout was not resolved in time to play the game.

Beginning in 1971, following the AFL-NFL merger, an AFC vs. NFC format was adopted for the Hall of Fame series. Preset schedules were created that called for each team to make a visit to Canton over 14- and 15-year periods through 1994. In 1995, the NFL selected the Hall of Fame Game to showcase the debut of the league's newest expansion teams – the Carolina Panthers and Jacksonville Jaguars. Since that time, the NFL designates the teams for the Hall of Fame Game on a season-by-season basis. The game normally includes teams with significant milestones (such as the return of the Cleveland Browns in 1999 and the Houston Texans inaugural game in 2002) or a connection to the Hall's current class. The Hall of Fame games were played on Sunday afternoons from 1963 to 1965. The inaugural game and those played from 1967 through 1997 were played on Saturday afternoons. Then, in 1998, the Hall of Fame game was switched to primetime with kickoff moved to Saturday evening. One year later, the game moved to Monday night. In 2006, the Hall of Fame Game returned to Sunday.

The NFL/Hall of Fame Game was televised nationally by ABC from 1971-2005. The game was broadcast by NBC since 2006, with the exception of 2007 and 2012 when the game aired on NFL Network.

TOM BENSON HALL OF FAME STADIUM

In the Beginning The stadium was built from 1937-1939 at an estimated cost of $500,000. The federal government in the form of man power, the WPA, paid for $400,000 while a school board bond issue paid for the materials. The stadium originally seated 15,000 and was the largest high school stadium in the country at that time. Originally named Fawcett Stadium after John A. Fawcett, a community leader, member of the Canton City school board, and a gifted athlete, the stadium was renamed Tom Benson Hall of Fame Stadium in 2014.

Renovation Tom Benson Hall of Fame Stadium underwent a major renovation in 1997. Backed by the Canton community, $4.3 million worth of improvements were completed on the stadium. Some of the major improvements included state-of-the-art AstroTurf with a player friendly rubber base, new locker room facilities, new scoreboard with graphics display screen, new lighting, new sound system, new electrical services, structural repairs, vinyl caps for all wooden seats, and a renovated press box.

The stadium had a new playing surface, FieldTurf, installed in 2004.

Lighting When the Hall of Fame game went prime time in 1998, engineers told ABC Sports, which broadcasts the game, that the stadium needed better lighting for a night game. The NFL responded by paying $365,000 for the addition of five light poles to bring the total to nine.

Press Box A brand new state-of-the-art press box was added in 2009. The $3.4 million project was funded by support from local foundations, local businesses, national businesses; and state, county, and city grants.

Home to Two Colleges and Two High Schools A total of four local teams play their home games at Tom Benson Hall of Fame Stadium. They include NCAA Division II rivals Malone University and Walsh University as well as two high schools (McKinley and Timken).

Enshrinement Ceremony The Pro Football Hall of Fame's enshrinement ceremony is one of the great events in sports. In 2002, the annual enshrinement was moved from the Hall's front steps back to Tom Benson Hall of Fame Stadium, where it had been held from 1963 to 1965. A grand stage is erected to accommodate the many returning Hall of Fame members who participate in the annual induction.

HALL OF FAME GAME FACTS

The Cincinnati Bengals, who beat the Los Angeles Rams in 1988, became the first team to play in the Hall of Fame Game and advance to the Super Bowl in the same season. The 2001 St. Louis Rams are the only other team to play in Canton to start a run to the Super Bowl.

Teams that have won or tied the Hall of Fame Game have qualified for the playoffs that same season 23 times. Included in the number are 14 teams that claimed division titles after leaving Canton without a loss.

During one particular 14-year stretch from 1980-1993, all but two of the teams that won or tied the Hall of Fame game advanced to the postseason that year.

HALL OF FAMERS WHO'VE PLAYED IN THE HOF GAME

Since its inception in 1962, there have been 143 members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame who have either played or coached in a Hall of Fame Game.

All six players in the Class of 2015 participated in the game.

The record for the most Hall of Fame Game appearances by a Hall of Fame member is three, held by Charlie Joiner, who played 18 seasons in the NFL.

Class of 2014 enshrinee CLAUDE HUMPHREY in action during the 1969 Hall of Fame Game.
